BP-Oman deal on multiple GW projects	BP signed a pact with Oman to deliver multiple GW renewable energy and hydrogen projects by 2030.	Oman	BP	The strategic framework agreement between BP and the Sultanate includes the development of an integrated plant with wind, solar and green hydrogen production. The pact is expected to attract significant investment into the country, supporting the creation of new industries and skilled jobs. The deal marks the first significant agreement between Oman and a British company since the two countries signed a Sovereign Investment Partnership deal early January.
